Digital Media Content is Available Through SHESC

Smoky Hill Partners with Learn360

Learn360 is the newest media-on-demand service, which allows subscribers to stream or download thousands of video clips and other K-12 educational media.

The content is searchable by keyword, subject, grade level, state standard, media format and more. Users have access to content provided by a variety of vendors including National Geographic, History, Bennett Watt, Sunburst, A&E, and many other well-known publishers.

Videos and individual video clips are correlated to Kansas College and Career Ready Standards. All videos are encoded in the MP4/H.264 format so they can be easily viewed on any device from desktop computers to laptops to tablets and even smart phones. Everyone in the school district, including students, can access media anytime, anywhere. A robust administration functionality offers a variety of reports, site customization, & connections to district media content.

If you are interested in learning more about Learn360, preview accounts are available through Smoky Hill. If you have questions, need more information, or want a trial login, contact Chris Modellmog at 785-825-9185 or at cmodellmog@smokyhill.org.

ROPES COURSE is Available

The Ropes Course is located on the campus of Fort Hays State University and is composed of high and low elements including elements that are accessible for individuals with disabilities. Looking for something daring and exciting? Why not try the Flying Squirrel or the Zip Line? Maybe you'd rather stay on the ground! Then the TP Shuffle and Whale Watch are for you! Portable equipment, games, and initiatives can also be brought to you on-site at your building.
