New Project-Based Learning Series Starts in September

Presenter: John Girodat

9 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. (all dates)

Salina

Baker University credit available: 1 credit hour for two sessions, 2 credit hours for all four sessions.

Single-session pricing:

C - $75, A - $90, N - $105

Project Based Learning Series I: An Introduction to the Essential Elements

9/10/19

What's the difference between a project and teaching through Project Based Learning? This workshop will introduce you to the six essential elements that make-up Project Based Learning. Not sure if it will work for your students? Not sure if you can commit to making the switch? Don't worry, it isn't an all-or-nothing proposition.

This workshop will give you opportunities to learn about each element and how you can begin to use some, or all, of them to increase student buy-in, engagement and achievement in your classes. If you are curious about PBL, this is the place to start!

Project Based Learning Series II: Driving Questions and Sustained Inquiry

10/1/19

This workshop will focus on how to create a good driving question that will guide students through the PBL process and how to make sure that they keep asking questions all the way through. When students ask the right questions, they are motivated to find the answers.

Motivated students try harder, perform better and are less of a discipline problem.

Project Based Learning Series III: Authenticity and Public Product

10/16/19

This workshop will help you identify how to guide students through the process of choosing a public product to answer their driving question. You will become more adept at creating authentic experiences for students that will not only help motivate them in the classroom, but also prepare them for life after high school.

Special Price for Attending Full Series

Charter: $225

Associate: $240

Non-member: $255

Project Based Learning Series IV: Student Voice & Choice and Reflection/Critique

11/5/19

Increasing student voice and choice helps to set students up for success by making them owners of their learning.

This workshop will help you to increase student ownership.

It will also give you tools to guide your students to reflect on their learning process, on the information they learned and on how to apply it in other areas.

You will gain strategies on how you can help individuals give and receive critical feedback and then use it to make changes to their products.

If you encourage students to take charge of their education, this workshop is for you!

Meet the Fall 2019 SHESC Workshop Presenters

Josh Dinkel has worked at SHESC for a year and has supported school technology programs from 2008-2017. He was technology director at Satanta USD 507 from 2013-2017 and has supported E-Learning platforms including MOODLE, Google Classroom, and G-Suite. He received his Bachelor's degree in informatics from Fort Hays State University in 2010.

Pam Kraus is currently the CTE Coordinator and STEM Consultant at SHESC. She has 20 years of experience in the classroom as a high school chemistry teacher. She has presented to educators from around the world at Space Exploration Educators Conference at Space Center Houston, and to science educators from Kansas at the annual Kansas Association of Teachers of Science conference.

Chris Moddelmog has worked for Smoky Hill Education Service Center since 2006 and is in his 5th year as Executive Director. A lifelong educator, he graduated from Bethany College with a Bachelor's degree in education and earned a Master's degree in educational administration from Wichita State University. Throughout his career, Chris has been involved in various teaching, professional development and administrative roles.

Jaye Ditter started working with education service centers in 2000 and has worked at Smoky Hill ESC since 2005. Working from the Hays location, Ditter provides PDC training, coordinates Teacher Safari, Safari Adventure and Expo. She is also part of the Smoky Hill ESC crisis intervention team and facilitator for the Smoky Hill Adventure Program.

Noalee McDonald-Augustine is in her 20th year as an educational consultant. She was co-chair of the Kansas Social, Emotional, and Character Development (SECD) standards writing team. She also manages SHESC's Ropes Adventure Program.

Darla Smith is currently the Assistant Director of SHESC, responsible for staff development and school improvement. Previously, she was a K-12 instructional coordinator for seven years for the Derby School District – working specifically with language arts and social studies as well as supporting math, science, and the fine arts. Darla has received extensive training in school improvement, assessment, brain-based learning, cooperative learning, project-based learning and curriculum development. Darla taught language arts and social studies at the middle and high school levels. She has expertise in assessment, school improvement, brain-based learning, reading, writing and effective instructional strategies.

Don Gifford is the Educational Program Consultant for History, Government, and Social Studies Career Standards and Assessment Services for the Kansas State Department of Education.

Sean D McDonald has been the SHESC network administrator since 2007. He manages all of the technology at Smoky Hill ESC's locations in Kansas. In addition to following the latest technology trends and keeping up with new equipment, Sean also assists school district technology directors in troubleshooting.
